PT A Pequena Rota “Trilho Ribeira de Oura” tem início e fim junto à sede da Associação Vidagustermas, onde está colocado o painel informativo, e percorre parte da freguesia de Oura e da União das freguesias de Vidago, Arcossó, Selhariz e Vilarinho das Paranheiras. Junto aos portões de entrada do majestoso Vidago Palace Hotel, o percurso acompanha o campo de Golfe do Vidago Palace e passados cerca de 800 metros continua pela antiga linha de caminho-de-ferro que unia as localidades de Chaves e Régua, conhecida como Linha do Corgo, até chegar à aldeia de Oura.

Nesta aldeia existe um interessante património imóvel, do qual se destaca a Igreja Matriz de Oura, de linhas barrocas, com uma torre sineira galaico portuguesa de dois sinos, datada do Séc. XVIII e cujos vitrais são da autoria do artista e pintor João Vieira, assim como a capela da Sr.ª da Piedade e o ancestral pelourinho em granito. Seguindo em direção a Vila Verde de Oura, o percurso atravessa a Ribeira de Oura sobre uma ponte medieval. De Vila Verde de Oura até Vidago, a Ribeira de Oura é atravessada duas vezes, sendo uma delas efetuada sobre travessas da ponte da Linha do Corgo. Chegando à vila de Vidago, e antes de regressar ao ponto de partida, pode visitar o património local de Vidago, do qual se destaca a Igreja de Nossa Senhora da Conceição, de estilo neorromânico e o Balneário Pedagógico de Investigação e Desenvolvimento de Práticas Termais de Vidago.

EN The walking path “Trilho Ribeira de Oura” has its start and end by the information panel located next to the head office of the Vidagustermas Association, and it covers part of Oura parish and the Union of parishes of Vidago, Arcossó, Selhariz and Vilarinho das Paranheiras. Near the entrance gates of the majestic Vidago Palace Hotel, the route follows the golf course of the Vidago Palace. After about 800 meters, it continues by the old railway that connected the towns of Chaves and Régua (and was known as Corgo Line), until you reach the village of Oura. In this village there is an interesting heritage property, from which stands out the chapel of Senhora da Piedade, the ancestral granite pillory and the Mother Church of Oura - with baroque lines, and a Gallician-Portuguese tower of two bells, dating back to the XVIII century, and whose stained glass was designed by artist and painter João Vieira. It proceeds towards the village of Vila Verde de Oura, and crosses the Oura River through a medieval bridge. From Vila Verde de Oura to Vidago, the Oura River is crossed twice - one crossing being performed on railway sleepers of the Corgo Line bridge. Arriving at the village of Vidago, and before returning to the starting point, you can visit the local heritage of Vidago, from which stands the Church of Nossa Senhora da Conceição, of Romanesque Revival architecture style, and the Thermal Spa of Vidago.
